ALFA International, the Global Legal Network, Presents
First Time WEB Release of 2010 GO TEAM Manual for Trucking Industry

First electronic release (www.alfainternational.com/GOTEAM) provides real time legal and reconstruction assistance across the United States and Canada

(May 14, 2010) –The Transportation/Trucking Industry Practice Group of ALFA International announces the release of the industry standard, the 2010 GO TEAM Manual. The manual, which is updated by ALFA International’s Transportation/Trucking Practice Group on a yearly basis, provides pertinent information to those in the transportation industry who must make quick decisions in the event of a serious accident or cargo loss. The GO TEAM Manual identifies, by state and region, the names, addresses and phone numbers of legal counsel, expert consultants, field adjusters and investigators. Virtually every region within the 48 contiguous states is covered, along with several central Canadian regions. Attorneys who concentrate in criminal cases are also listed in the event that a particular situation requires that type of legal counsel. For the most part, the criminal defense attorneys are not associated with any ALFA International firm. For the first time ever, the manual is available for review online and free of charge via the ALFA International website, www.alfainternational.com.

The most critical evidence and information is often gathered immediately after an accident. For this reason, each ALFA International attorney listed in the GO TEAM Manual is committed to being available around the clock to assist with time-sensitive emergencies via the GO TEAM Hotline, 1-866-540-ALFA (2532), a complimentary 24 hour on-call service offered in conjunction with the GO TEAM Manual.

From the perspective of David R. Jostad, Senior Vice President/General Counsel at Oregon-based, May Tucking Company,

“The ALFA International GO TEAM Manual is a one of a kind information resource that connects the Trucking/Transportation industry with defense counsel and experts anywhere in the country, immediately when you need it, every hour of the day and every day of the year. In our business you must be prepared to promptly react when one of your company’s vehicles is involved in a critical accident. The ALFA International organization, with their GO TEAM manual, on-line access, and access to a live person, consistently provides us with the immediate on-sight legal expertise across the United States, that we expect.”

In addition to online, the GO TEAM Manual is available in hard copy and CD formats.
