2025 TRANSPORTATION PRACTICE GROUP SEMINAR

APRIL 30–MAY 2, 2025

THE RESORT AT PELICAN HILL | NEWPORT COAST, CALIFORNIA

At the ALFA International 2025 Transportation Seminar, we are charged with being better problem-solvers, thought leaders and being transparent about our roadblocks. It's time to subscribe to the #ALFAIEFFECT – which means that as key stakeholders, we must realize that mitigating transportation risk is a team sport –no one can do it alone, no one company should bear the risk alone and so what can you offer? Please leave your privacy settings at home, we are here to be vulnerable and productive. During the seminar, you will be collaborating with excess insurers, opposing counsel, brokers, motor carriers and experts on ways that we can effectuate change and take control of the narrative. We want you to leave with your own personalized best practices. What is your #ALFAIEFFECT?

We look forward to you joining us from April 30-May 2, 2025, at the beautiful Resort at Pelican Hill in Newport Coast, California for full days and nights of well-rounded educational sessions, networking with colleagues and many good times in a stunning environment. See you there!

IS YOUR AGREEMENT BULLET PROOF?

The recent emergence of naming “upstream” defendants in serious accident claims means that common brokerage and leasing contract terms are more important than ever. After all, most “upstream” defendants have no direct knowledge of the underlying accident at all. We will discuss best practices for insulating entities such as CMV lessors and freight brokers from both accident and cargo-related litigation that includes a list of “must-have” contractual terms.

IS MY 30(B)(6) DESIGNEE A SWORD OR A SHIELD? CAN THEY BE BOTH?

We have all prepared for and defended 30(B)(6) depositions, and we continue to learn about how important they are. But what happens when we read between the lines of the transcript, or use the designee's testimony in a proactive manner? This presentation seeks to explore how we can use 30(B)(6) testimony to posture the case how we want it postured, the issues and buzzwords that win or lose the day and becoming more organized with our designees.
