

How the COVID-19 Crisis has Reshaped the Presentation, Techniques & Tactics in Arbitration Practice

1. Planning for remote arbitrations requires more thoughtful considerations than ever before.
2. Integrity of witness reliability at arbitrations is more at risk.
3. More parties/counsel will continue to support remote hearings because of travel cost savings regardless of additional challenges.
4. Strength of delivery in the presentation can be reduced by hybrid arbitration hearings.
5. The variety of virtual platforms may result in different parties using different platforms creating inefficiencies.

Steven J. Cologne

Moderator

HIGGS FLETCHER & MACK LLP

San Diego, CA

scologne@higgslaw.com

Brendan Taylor

MILLS OAKLEY

Perth, WA

btaylor@millsoakley.com.au